

GAC UK Marine & Terminal Services

The assets, skills and expertise to deliver

Whatever the size and scope of your operation, we have what it takes to arrange everything from boatmen and bunker fuels to riggers and RIB hire.

Delivering your strategy.

Uniquely customisable services whenever and wherever needed to reduce the cost of your terminal operations, while making them safer and more efficient.

Oil majors, refineries, vessel owners and operators worldwide rely on GAC's integrated range of shipping, logistics and marine services to deliver their strategy.

We apply more than 60 years of experience to developing value-adding services and skill sets that give you a tangible edge over your competitors.

It takes the latest technology, techniques and commitment to excellence to manage these operations effectively. GAC UK's strong performance is testament that we are up to the task, every day of the year.

360° support

Local managers oversee the intricacies of daily operations whilst continuously reviewing efficiency and costs against pre-agreed performance indicators. The local teams are supported by centralised administration, HSSE, IT and training departments based at our Grangemouth HQ.

Skilled team

Safe berthing, unberthing and shifting of vessels in port and at terminals is key. That's why the provision of fully trained and experienced boatmen responsible for efficient, safe handling is a cornerstone of GAC UK's Marine & Terminal services.

It is essential that pilots have full confidence in crew boats, mooring gangs and linesmen. We provide that peace of mind: all GAC boatmen are MCA Boatmaster licensed skippers and trained linesmen, fully qualified to assist ships even in the most challenging conditions.

Optimoor

We ensure effective mooring with Optimoor, the mooring analysis program built on Oil Companies International Marine Forum (OCIMF) recommendations. The report is shared before arrival so that the vessel is prepared and ready to moor, with lines matched to mooring points.
